BOARD OF EDUCATION DISTRICT NO 1.

We herewith submit a general summary of the leading statistics of the combined schools. Tabular statement for each of the schools will be found on the last page of this report.

	1st Term	2nd Term	3rd Term
Scholars between 5 and 15 years of age	139	166	145
Scholars over 15 years of age	37	34	36
Whole number enrolled	176	200	181
Average number belonging	169	179	161
Average attendance	160	160	150
Number not absent during term	40	23	46
Visits by committee	32	25	12
Visits by friends	32	57	21

The statistics for the winter term cover only the six weeks prior to the publication of this report.

These figures show no essential change from last year. There was a slightly larger enrollment and a pleasant gain in the visits of friends of the school.

In the High School the distribution of work was as follows:

Number taking fourth year Greek	1
Number taking second and third year Greek	6
Number taking Cicero	9
Number taking Vergil	3
Number taking French	30
Number taking Chemistry	9
Number taking Geometry	33
The number in the class entering the High School was	18
In the second year class	14
In the Senior class	15

This is an increase of three over last year which was then an unusual number.

There have been 34 tuition pupils during the year and about $375 has been received from that source in tuition.

During the year the committee have done away with an anomaly that heretofore existed as to graduation. As previously managed, those who had completed three years of High School study were graduated, and came back as post-graduates for the fourth year. This was an entirely unsatisfactory arrangement and hereafter graduation will follow the completion of the entire course.

With the introduction of the English course last year the committee felt that the above change could work no hardship and would give dignity to the entire work of the High School. The new plan does not apply to the present Senior class.

During the year it has been necessary to increase the number of grades to nine, which is the usual number in all public schools.

With only eight grades the work of the seventh and eighth grades has been crowded and the pupils unable to do their best work in the High School.

The change from the grammar grades to the High School has been too abrupt often to the injury of the health of the pupils. The introduction of the extra year will permit a better distribution of the work in both Miss Bickford's room and in the High School. For the present the ninth grade will be a part of the High School where it can be managed without any increase in the teaching force, though it naturally comes in the Grammar School.

The change will not affect this year's class and the adjustment of the classes to the new programme will be gradual. Ultimately the course will be a year longer than at present. The work of the ninth grade will be in ancient History, a thorough drill in English grammar and composition, elementary Algebra and Geometry, with a review of Arithmetic.

A short afternoon recess for the whole school has been introduced during the year. It was thought that the long uninterrupted session was bad for the pupils and unfavorable to good work in the latter part of the afternoon.

With the exception of the second primary room there have been no essential changes in the teaching force since the last report.

Principal Kaharl has continued his successful management of the High School and Miss Flint her efficient services as first assistant.

Mr. Howe has succeeded Mr. Lewis as the instructor furnished by the president of the Moor's Charity School, and Mr. Buck of the College is also giving some instruction without cost to the district.

The whole arrangement is working smoothly and to the great advantage of the School.

In the second primary school Miss Allen was released at the beginning of the Winter term to accept a position in Manchester, and Miss Applebee, a graduate of the Plymouth Normal School, has been engaged to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the year. Miss Rowe took Miss Downing's place at the opening of the Fall Term. We desire to acknowledge Miss Downing's long and faithful services.

The number graduated from the High School last year was unusually large, being eleven. Of this number four have returned for the post-graduate year, one has entered college and six are pursuing their studies in other institutions.

A sum of one hundred dollars has been expended for physical apparatus and for the first time it has been possible to take up the study of Physics under the Experimental Method.

The system of half day sessions for the three lowest rooms has worked well during the year in which it has been tried.

The degree of Nature study that it has been possible to introduce has entirely justified its introduction two years ago.
